This current digital version of the 2022 Yearbook of Selected Candidates is special and historic, as this year we celebrate the first 30 cohorts of the Loan Scholarship Program of the Fundación para el Futuro de Colombia (COLFUTURO). Through this undertaking, the dreams of more than 13,500 Colombians who think big and have contributed to the country's development through their high-level studies abroad have come true. With this invaluable support, they have returned the knowledge they acquired to help Colombia face it current challenges.

This yearbook presents all the information about the 2022 cohort, the largest in COLFUTURO's history. This year, 1,534 Colombians are carrying out their educational projects, and in this way have become strategic partners in the construction of the pathway that will lead Colombia toward becoming a more just, more modern and more prosperous society.

Bogotá, june 2022

Dear reader:

This yearbook of the candidates selected during 2022 is very special because this is the 30th round of professionals that the Fundación para el Futuro de Colombia (COLFUTURO) has selected to pursue graduate studies in the best universities around the globe. In addition, this is the largest group of awardees ever selected in our 31 years of history: 1,534 Colombians.

COLFUTURO will provide loan scholarships amounting to US$64 million to this new group of beneficiaries, of which US$23 million were contributed by the Ministry of Science and US$41 million by COLFUTURO.

For me, each selection process that we have undertaken has a profound meaning, especially because in 1992, I was part of the first group of 46 beneficiaries supported by COLFUTURO's Loan Scholarship Program, thanks to which I was able to successfully complete my master's program at the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE). This experience changed my life. As a result, I have maintained a deep sense of gratitude to COLFUTURO.

It has been 21 years since I first began to work at the Fundación as Executive Director. In 2001, when I assumed the position, COLFUTURO selected 96 beneficiaries; in 2022, we are celebrating the 1,534 Colombians selected.

During the past 13 years, we have selected over 1,000 students per year, and this pace has enabled us to select around 19,000 professionals during our three decades of history. These figures further confirm the success of the decisions made by the people who founded COLFUTURO in the early 1990s.

Each of these figures underscores the intense desire of Colombians to be at the forefront of global knowledge and that their intention to be educated in high-quality universities abroad continues to be an increasingly powerful force.

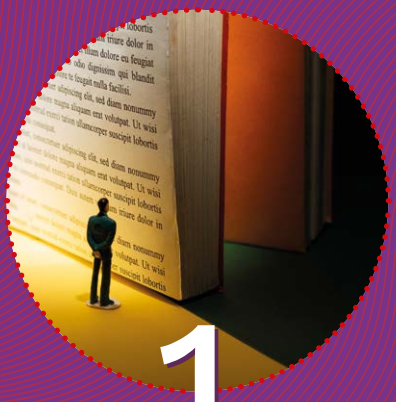

The aforementioned, together with the return of that acquired knowledge to the country to face its current and future challenges, allows the Fundación to thrive and to continue fulfilling its mission of contributing to the development of Colombia.

Based on this succinct summary and many other reasons that go beyond my limited space here, I hope that you will eagerly immerse yourselves in this report that we have prepared, as we do everything in COLFUTURO, with enthusiasm and dedication.

Mission

La Fundación para el Futuro de Colombia (COLFUTURO) contributes to Colombia's development by creating opportunities for Colombian professionals with a record of academic excellence who wish to pursue graduate studies in the world's top graduate programs.

Vision

During the next decade, COLFUTURO will continue to lead Colombia in the financing of graduate studies abroad. We will be the best partner to outstanding professionals across the country who seek to carry out high-quality graduate studies. We will support them in their quest for excellence, in their acquisition of world-class expertise and in their desire to build a better society.

I would like to give you some words of advice: First of all, prepare everything with enough time. Find out about immigration processes, visas, insurance, airfare and where you are going to live. Second, inquire about discounts you might be eligible for as a student at your destination university, extracurricular activities and cultural programs that you can take advantage of well beyond your studies. Third, talk 100% of the time with people from different nationalities and who speak different languages. My last piece of advice is to enjoy every bit of your experience.

LOAN SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

The program

Loan Scholarship Program

Within the framework of the Loan Scholarship Program (PCB, for its acronym in Spanish), unique in Colombia, we will continue working to overcome the changes on the world stage that emerged during the pandemic. We will maintain the standards of our selection process based on the combined criteria of the academic excellence of the candidate and the target graduate program. Likewise, the loan forgiveness percentage is still in effect and may reach 80% of the loan scholarship amount, depending on the choices made by the beneficiaries, as follows: 20% of the loan is forgiven for those who pursue degrees in Business or Law, and 40% for all Ph.D. degrees and other areas of knowledge. Furthermore, an additional 20% is waived for those working outside Bogota and its metropolitan area for a three-year period, for those who find employment in the public sector and for those who work in academia for a minimum of three years.

The new reality resulting from the pandemic drove many changes in our physical processes. We transitioned to fully virtual operations, thanks to which we have been able to swiftly implement new IT tools and to reach 100% of our students who required our support. We understand that the situation has still not fully normalized, but we will continue to work efficiently to meet the objectives set, always keeping the beneficiaries at the core of our priorities.

In this line of thinking, we adapted to new situations and we will continue offering our active beneficiaries an array of options, particularly those who were unable to carry out their academic studies due to the pandemic. All these efforts have enabled us to obtain a favorable evaluation of our services: 95% of those who used our services rated our performance as good to excellent. It is worth highlighting that of those who are actively studying and receive disbursements, 99% of our ratings were positive.

Throughout the 30 cohorts of the Loan Scholarship Program (PCB) that we have been able to select, we have been privileged to act as agents of change for each one of our 15,294 beneficiaries of the PCB, given that pursuing graduate studies abroad has transformed their lives and helped them take their careers to the next level. They are a source of pride for the country, as they prove that with effort, determination and commitment, dreams can be made to come true, both for those selected as well as for their families.

Support from the National Government

In 2007, the first agreement of cooperation was entered into between the Ministry of National Education, Icetex (the Colombian Institute of Educational Credit and Technical Studies Abroad) and COLFUTURO. One year later, the agreement was renewed in partnership with Colciencias, now the Ministry of Science, Technology and Innovation, Icetex and COLFUTURO.

Starting in 2009, the National Government agreed to bear the cost of the amounts corresponding to the loan forgiveness (scholarship) portion granted to the selected professionals in the Loan Scholarship Program, for at least the next nine years.

A new loan forgiveness scheme for the Loan Scholarship Program was established in 2017, in which the Government, through Conpes 3862 of 2016, which amended Conpes 3835 of 2015, agreed to contribute COP$698 billion to support COLFUTURO's growth until 2025.

SELECTION PROCESS 2022

This is how COLFUTURO selects Area Committees Essay Rating Committee

COLFUTURO has developed a rigorous selection process of candidates who stand out due to their academic excellence and the quality of the programs they have selected to carry out their studies.

In the following pages, we will explain in detail the factors considered and the steps of the selection process that nominates the most qualified professionals.

Likewise, we will present this year's statistics and the more than 70 experts who participate in the area committees and in the evaluation of the application essays.

THE COLFUTURO SELECTION PROCESS

The call for applications opens in January.

APPLICATIONS FROM CANDIDATES

Those who have filled out the online form will enter the competition.

This is a competitive process because the number of candidates exceeds the number of those we can provide assistance to.

ADMINISTRATIVE REVIEW

FORM

It is available online and must be filled out completely.

DOCUMENTS

The form contains a section with instructions on uploading required documents on specific dates.

LANGUAGE

Proficiency in a second language is not required at this stage of the application process. Proficiency must be certified within two years of being selected or until an individual's loan scholarship is legalized.

AREA COMMITTEES

(anonymous processing)

All candidates are classified one of the 12 areas of study. Each area committee is made up of experts in the specific area of studies who carried out graduate studies abroad. They review each candidate's profile and the initial rating that COLFUTURO has assigned to the graduate program of interest. Once reviewed, the rating may be adjusted and the list is reorganized in each area.

DO NOT MEET REQUIREMENTS

Those applicants who do not meet the requirements will have the opportunity to resubmit their application in the following call for applications.

AREAS OF STUDY

- ✓ Business Administration
- ✓ Architecture and Design
- ✓ Arts
- ✓ Agricultural and Environmental Sciences
- ✓ Basic Sciences
- ✓ Health Sciences
- ✓ Political Science and International Relations
- ✓ Social Sciences
- ✓ Law
- ✓ Economics
- ✓ Education
- ✓ Engineering

THE FORMULA

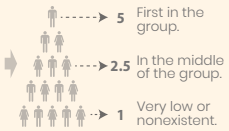

Each application criterion is evaluated on a scale of 1 to 5 and has an assigned percentage within the overall evaluation score.
Once all aspects of the application have been evaluated, they are weighted and added together to obtain a final grade of 100%.
The three first criteria evaluated correspond to aspects of the candidate's profile and the remaining percentage of the score corresponds to the selected program.

37 % Undergraduate GPA.

Class ranking according to GPA.

20 % Adjustment factor.

a. Class ranking of student: The ranking of the student will be converted into a rating.
b. Awards and distinctions: We recognize the distinctions of summa cum laude, magna cum laude or cum laude, honor enrollment or enrollment scholarship, honors theses or honors degree, distinguished student or merit student and honor roll.
c. Ranking in Saber Pro: Depending on the results of the Saber Pro tests.
d. Admission to the university: If the candidate has already been accepted in the university, he/she will obtain the same rating criterion: Program selected*.

The system immediately calculates two scenarios:

1. Considering the adjustment factor that best fits the candidate
2. Without the adjustment factor

Upon carrying out such a calculation, the highest grade will be taken into account. If the adjustment factor is not used, 20% will be distributed between the other

*Having been accepted to a university is not a requirement to apply to the call for applications.

5 % Essay.

The essay is evaluated anonymously by judges who are independent of COLFUTURO.

38 % Selected Program..

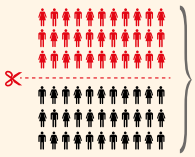

It is a key selection element. This rating will be based on the position of the program in international and national rankings, publications, research groups, labs, recognitions, and faculty, among other factors.

ACADEMIC COMMITTEE

The academic committee is made up of eight people who hold graduate degrees from universities abroad. Their main function is to ensure that the lists delivered by the area committees (resulting from applying the evaluation criteria) are correct, and thus, establish cut-off scores for each area.

REORGANIZED LIST

One decimal point, in any of the four ratings, may allow the candidate to be above or below the cut-off score.

Whoever is located below the cut-off will have the opportunity to resubmit an application in the following call for applications.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The list of recommended candidates is delivered to the Board of Directors of COLFUTURO, which conducts a final review. Depending on the budget, the Board adds or eliminates candidates in each area of studies.

COLFUTURO Selected candidates

RESULTS of May

The list of selected candidates is published.

My advice to you is to identify and analyze the area that you like the most and the one you are passionate about in your profession. Then, dedicate part of your time to learn about and develop that specific area. I would like to encourage you to make a difference on the international academic and professional stage and to leave the name of Colombia, and your cities of origin, on a high note.

I would like to congratulate you on this new achievement. As of this moment, you will embark on a new journey filled with significant rewards, so please enjoy this time to the maximum extent possible. Every single achievement is to be savored, irrespective of its importance. I would also like you to be open to meeting new people and to learn about their cultures and their vision of the world. Last but not least, be the best ambassador of our culture and our country. This is also an opportunity to build Colombia through education and to come together to make a better world.

My advice to you is to go beyond what your Master's or Ph.D. offers in terms of subject matter and the professors with whom you will be involved. Explore other departments of the university, get to know what types of opportunities there are to participate in, such as interdisciplinary projects, either academic or from industry, as this will broaden your network of contacts and will open up many new opportunities.

Talent Incubator Group

The Talent Incubator Program (PST, for its Spanish acronym) was created fifteen years ago and consists of providing ongoing guidance to students and of providing advising services to those who are part of the PST in their process of looking for and applying to high-level graduate programs abroad.

Each year, it identifies existing talent by means of three calls for application. Its rigorous selection process is focused on academic excellence and leadership qualities of the candidates. Additionally, it considers other criteria such as weighted grade point average, ranking in undergraduate studies, and other merits and academic awards.

Today, we are proud to have 1,300 incubator participants made up of Colombian students who, in some cases, are among the top 5% of their class, belong to a certified research group, haves scored in the top 5% of the Saber Pro test, or who have graduated summa cum laude or with other honors.

SEMILLERO de TALENTOS

COLFUTURO'S experience has shown that the most brilliant professionals in the country are hindered from pursuing graduate studies as a result of not being able to speak a second language, not knowing how to choose a university that offers academic excellence and the belief that it is impossible to finance the cost of living and studying abroad.

The PST works directly on solving these problems by means of personalized advising and coaching that includes a series of tools, such as counseling, workshops, information sessions, rating of graduate programs, review of essays and assistance with application requirements. The advising process is carried out for a period of up to three years.

The Talent Incubator Program has set out to strengthen areas such Engineering, Health Sciences, Basic Sciences, Economics, Social Sciences, Education, the Arts and Agricultural and Environmental Sciences.

In addition, in those projects led by the program, it has provided support, services, recommendations, advice on best practices, review of norms and the calls for applications of our partners, among whom we would like to highlight Icetex, Funed, FWWB, Educafín, SURA, Proimágenes, Cotecmar, Indumil, Ecopetrol, Bancolombia, Universidad de Caldas, Universidad del Rosario y the Universidad Externado de Colombia. This has enabled our partners to overcome conceptual and operational issues.

Educational Counseling and International Relations

Of the various programs that have allowed COLFUTURO to fulfill its mission, three in particular stand out: advising services, providing motivation and counseling to aid those Colombians wishing to pursue graduate studies abroad.

Year after year, the Educational Counseling program provides at no cost information and tools to those candidates interested in pursuing their graduate studies outside Colombia and to choose the program that is the best fit, taking into account their personal, academic and professional interests.

To that end, the area provides guidance on high-quality academic programs by means of personalized counseling. Staff gather accurate and independent information that allows analyzing, evaluating and classifying the universities and graduate programs around the world. Similarly, and on a permanent basis, they organize webinars and other activities with foreign universities, government representatives and international institutions that offer information relevant for preparing applications and taking the required international tests.

Also, for the purpose of making COLFUTURO more visible in the local arena as well as internationally, the Educational Counseling team participates in education fairs and stays in permanent contact with universities through talks and workshops offered by members of their academic communities, many of whom will be candidates to participate in the Loan Scholarship Program (PCB) call for applications.

Other tasks conducted include the review and evaluation of the graduate studies to which candidates to the PCB apply. Staff permanently monitor publications issued by international entities that include rankings, accreditations and assessments of universities, schools and programs. Subsequently, and after a detailed analysis, they identify information to be included in the ValPro tool, developed by COLFUTURO, which enables a comprehensive valuation of each of the programs that compete in the selection.

Furthermore, the outstanding management of the International Relations area as well as its ongoing communication with renowned universities abroad and with representatives of international governments, has permitted COLFUTURO to enter into more that 120 agreements of cooperation. Thanks to these agreements, beneficiaries of the PCB program obtain full scholarships and reductions in tuition fees that vary between 10% and 75%, as well as other support. Annually, thanks to this collaboration, more than US$3 million in scholarships and discounts are awarded to students.

Language Program

Learning a second language is one of the most significant challenges in the education process. Since 1996, our Language Program has been the entry door to the endless depths of human knowledge and intercultural exchange. Well beyond fulfilling a requirement, learning a second language provides us with the possibility of accessing and exploring different realities, allowing us to broaden our vision of the world and ourselves.

Through its Language Program, COLFUTURO seeks to foster the interest of Colombian students and professionals in learning or perfecting their English, French or German with 4 calls and support for over 400 participants per year. Since the program's inception, a total of 2,644 Colombians have benefitted through the following opportunities:

- The opportunity to select from 28 cooperation agreements in 7 countries: Australia, Canada, the United States, New Zealand, the United Kingdom, France and Germany.
- The opportunity to study in a top quality university or institution abroad.
- The option for the student to decide on the duration and destination of the program.
- Granting a discount percentage on the total value of the course, which could vary between 10% and 45%, depending on the program selected. The discount value is established in the agreement of cooperation that COLFUTURO has entered into with each university or institution.
- Advising during the admission process to the destination institution.
- An instruction for the visa depending on the country.
- Ease of payment for the course. All payments are made in Colombian pesos to COLFUTURO, which is in charge of making the transfer to the university.

OUR AGREEMENTS OF COOPERATION

Local agreements of cooperation
International agreements
By country

With the goal of maximizing the value of each dollar delivered by COLFUTURO to its beneficiaries, a number of ongoing agreements of cooperation have been entered into with local entities, universities and representatives from foreign governments that award our students full or partial grants to cover tuition fees and other financial aid line items.

We have entered into nine national agreements of cooperation and 141 agreements with institutions in 19 countries, in all areas of knowledge.

2022 Talent Incubator Program

COLFUTURO PCB-FDC

Since 2011, the National Council for Arts and Cinema Culture (CNACC, for its Spanish acronym), Proimágenes Colombia, in its capacity as Administrator of the Fund for the Development of Cinema (FDC, for its Spanish acronym), executed an agreement with COLFUTURO. The FDC provides resources to support Colombians to pursue graduate studies abroad in areas related to the cinema and audiovisual sector, both at the master's and doctoral levels.

Those selected in COLFUTURO'S PCB may obtain an additional forgiveness of their loan of up to US$ 8,000 with resources provided by the FDC. In order to be eligible for this additional forgiveness under this agreement, beneficiaries must comply with the conditions for condonation established in the PCB provisions.
To aspire to this benefit, candidates must have submitted to COLFUTURO an unconditional admissions letter and begin the program at the latest 12 months after having been selected as a grantee of the PCB. The agreement between COLFUTURO and FDC does not accept changes to the program and the selection is not retroactive, as it is carried out on a yearly basis for beneficiaries of the PCB calls for applications in force.

Throughout 2022, FDC will continue its commitment to film and audiovisual studies by maintaining this agreement in force and with the selection of 14 beneficiaries in the 2022 PCB. The support per person amounts to US$9,000, for a total of US$ 126,000.

PST-Proimágenes Colombia

ProimágenesColombia

Within the framework of this agreement, professionals in the audiovisual field who meet the academic requirements may participate in the Talent Incubator Program (PST) of COLFUTURO. They will be provided with advising services and guidance during the selection process of a top-level graduate program with specific activities designed for their area of interest. In addition, Proimágenes may assist or finance studies of a second language in Colombia to students selected for the PST-Proimágenes program.

French Embassy

AMBASSADE
DE FRANCE

Liberté
Égalité
Fraternité

Currently, COLFUTURO and the French Embassy have three support programs:

- Assistance to participants in the Talent Incubator Program.
- French Embassy – CEF.
- Ph.D. studies – French Embassy.

Support for to Talent Incubator participants

Those candidates from the Talent Incubator Program who are selected by the French Embassy have access to 400 hours of French language learning in the regional branches of the Alliance Francaise in preparation for their graduate studies in France. In addition, they are entitled to a 25% discount on Campus France fees, an agency that manages the admission process to French education centers and handles the procedures to obtain visas for students.

French Embassy-CEF

The French Embassy, the Corporation for Studies in France (CEF, for its Spanish acronym) and COLFUTURO established an agreement that benefits Colombian professionals who wish to pursue master's or doctoral studies in France during 2021–2022.

The French Embassy and the CEF, the entity in charge of providing and facilitating the education of young Colombians in the best universities in France, will grant €120,000 per year for four years for this purpose, and these resources will be managed by COLFUTURO. It is estimated that 30 selected students of the Loan Scholarship Program (PCB) will be provided with €4,000 each, an amount that will be credited to the student's loan from COLFUTURO once the student returns to the country and meets the PCB provisions.

France Doctoral Mobility-MDF (for its Spanish acronym)

The French Embassy and COLFUTURO entered into an agreement that benefits Colombian professionals who have been selected to carry out their doctoral studies in France with the support of the Loan Scholarship Program and who are in their first year of residence in the country.

The French Embassy will grant €30,000 per year to this program, and the resources will be managed by COLFUTURO. It is estimated that €3,000 in assistance will be provided to 10 students selected for the Loan Scholarship Program who are conducting their Ph.D. studies in France. This award amount will be credited to the loan that the student has with COLFUTURO after having returned to the country and having met PCB provisions.

WWB Foundation

fundación wwb Colombia

The WWB Foundation (FWWB) Colombia and COLFUTURO entered into an agreement to foster the education of highly qualified individuals in all the departments of the country. The agreement's main purpose is to provide assistance to members of the PST program so as to reduce the existing gap in eligibility for being admitted to a graduate program abroad.

The FWWB will provide assistance to up to 40 people per year in the Talent Incubator Program who meet the requirements defined in each call for applications. Financing provided by FWWB Colombia will be used to cover language studies or application requirements for the purpose of allowing selected candidates to overcome academic and financial gaps while they are enrolled in the PST preparation program while looking for, preparing for and applying to high-quality graduate programs abroad.

Goethe Institut

Members of the Talent Incubator Program selected to be part of the Goethe Institut agreement receive, on a yearly basis, one or two bimonthly German courses. Other Talent Incubator candidates will obtain a 10% discount in courses or in the institution's certification exams. Additionally, they may also receive a 10% discount on courses or certification exams in the Goethe Institut.

COTECMAR

The purpose of this agreement of cooperation is to join efforts and knowledge to support Cotectmar employees who wish to pursue graduate studies. Both institutions commit to selecting professionals with the best profiles, both academically and in their professional competencies. Candidates must be previously identified according to the needs established for the development of Colombia's naval, maritime and river industries.

COLFUTURO, on its behalf, will support, guide and help these interested candidates in selecting the best graduate programs, will motivate them to prepare themselves to achieve second-language proficiency and will encourage them to apply to the annual call for applications to the Loan Scholarship Program. Cotecmar, in turn, will comply with the commitments set in the agreement of cooperation with COLFUTURO.

GRUPO SURA

Within the framework of educational support provided to its employees, SURA entered into an agreement with COLFUTURO that operates in two stages:

- SURA Incubator Program. COLFUTURO and SURA will jointly identify the best academic and professional profiles of SURA employees who wish to pursue graduate studies abroad. COLFUTURO will provide support, guidance and assistance in the selection of the best graduate programs according to SURA's priorities, and will encourage the candidates to prepare themselves to achieve second-language proficiency and to participate in the Loan Scholarship Program (PCB) call for applications.
- PCB-SURA. Once employees who were awarded a PCB loan scholarship graduate and return to their employment, SURA will repay the outstanding loan to COLFUTURO.

INDUMIL

The objective of this agreement of cooperation is to join efforts and expertise to promote and support employees of the Colombian Military Industry (Indumil, for its Spanish acronym) who wish to pursue graduate studies. Both institutions agree to select the employees with profiles of excellence both academically and in terms of their professional competencies. Candidates must be previously identified according to the needs established for the development of the country's military industry.

FUNDACIÓN BOLÍVAR

Fundación Bolívar Davivienda

Fundación Bolívar Davivienda and COLFUTURO are interested in jointly supporting Colombian youth who plan to pursue graduate studies abroad in topics related to symphonic performance, music pedagogy and cultural management. With the purpose of enabling the participation of the greatest number of professionals in symphonic performance, COLFUTURO will select a group of professionals who have a good academic profile and a high probability of being selected in the annual call for applications, then provide assistance and guidance to these candidates through the Talent Incubator Program in their process of choosing a master's program in some of the world's leading universities.

PCB-FUNDACIÓN BOLÍVAR

Once the beneficiaries of the PCB with symphonic performance studies, music pedagogy and cultural management are identified and once they graduate and meet the PCB requirements, the Fundación Bolívar will make partial repayment to COLFUTURO of their loan.

My advice is to live in the present. Travel, go out with friends and enjoy the experience to the maximum extent possible. I commend you for having been selected as awardees of COLFUTURO. I know you will have a great time and I hope you succeed.
